NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY,
(Established in 1854.)
617 Kearney Street, near Commercial, San Francisco.

EXPOSURE OF QUACKERY.

For the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, syphilis in all its forms; seminal weakness, impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated legs, successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe—among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High St., Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Luke's, Old street; St. Mary's, Camb Place, Pad.; Lock, Harrow road; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, White, Chapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DR. GIBBON has visited Drs. Acton of London; Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DR. GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment, which cannot be surpassed.

DR. GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1, 1865.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces, and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended Doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Syphilis is Syphilis the world over; so is small pox, consumption and other diseases, to the contrary of what quacks may say.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse.—This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures; sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunt intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of treating this complaint, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give $100 to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to DR. GIBBON, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for ten dollars, sent in a registered leter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and prerenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trade. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper-carriers, intelligence office, keepers, etc.—Look over the San Francisco City Directory and you will find their former occupation in it. Look at the Directory for 1862. The only way to avoid imposition is make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, advertising physicians in eight cases of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting till you know what they are. DR. GIBBON does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. DR. GIBBON will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Prevention against diseases and pregnancy. Sent by mail—Price, $2.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

The following letter was received too late for our last issue, but as there are matters of public interest therein we give place to it now.—[ED. ENQ.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 22, 1866.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—To-day being the anniversary of the birth of the Father of his Country, neither House of the Legislature is in session, both having adjourned over in honor of the occasion. The weather being delightful, and decidedly the finest of the season, most of the members after their arduous labors are off recreating; some having received invitations from the company are off on the pic-nic excursion to Colfax, the train for which place with a large load of passengers started on its "winding way," at 10 o'clock this morning; others have gone only to the target shooting of the military at Arcade Grove, some twelve miles out from the city, while others who wish to test the scripture rule, that "the race is not to the swift nor the battle to the strong," patronize the foot race which comes off at the Louisiana Course for one thousand dollars aside, so that you see that there is no lack of intellectual and physical amusements wherewith to while away the teduim of the times.

The times so far as legislative matters are concerned during the past week have been rather lively than otherwise. The Paid Fire Department bill of San Francisco, went kiting through both Houses, notwithstanding crowds of the leading "fire laddies" from the companies at the Bay were here in full force to defeat it. The riot among the firemen, on a Sunday afternoon, a couple of months since, just as the churches were out, and the firing of pistols indiscriminately into the crowd, did more to pass this bill than all the other arguments in its favor.

The vote on the repeal of the Specific Contract Law and the subsequent proceedings had thereon in relation to the article published in the American Flag, of Saturday last, charging that seven of the Senators who voted against the repeal had been paid by the bankers and other interested parties of San Francisco $12,000 each for voting as they did. On Monday the Senate very properly considering that its honor and dignity had been assailed on its most tender point, very wisely appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Ewer, Heacock and Smith, of Butte, the author of the bill, with power to send for persons and papers. The committee accordingly issued a summons for D. O. McCarthy, the publisher of the Flag, to be and appear before them, which was despatched by a deputy of the Sergeant-at-Arms to San Francisco on the same day. Mr. McCarthy obeyed the summons, came up on the next day's boat, upon the arrival of which he was greeted with a serenade, and escorted to the Union Hotel. At 10, on the following morning, he appeared before the committee, and stated that it would be confessible for him to substantiate his statements without their holding their sessions in San Francisco. Upon the committee reporting this to the Senate, and requesting leave to proceed to San Francisco, that body refused, and decided that the examination of Mr. McCarthy should immediately take place in open Senate. Upon that party being brought before this body, he declined to answer the questions propounded to him by the managers, Messrs. Belden and Heacock, the former conducting the case with his accustomed ability. Certain questions were reduced to writing, to which Mr. McCarthy replied that he was the proprietor of the American Flag, was responsible for what appeared in its columns, and although he did not write the article in question, it was written at his dictation, and he was responsible for it. Whereupon the Senate took a recess until 7 o'clock in the evening. Upon reassembling, every position within the bar, the lobby and gallery was crowded with parties anxious to witness the investigation and hear its results. Upon the opening of the Senate, Smith, of Butte, rose and remarked that Mr. McCarthy desired to submit a written statement, which being read, was to the effect that the reason why he desired the investigation to take place in San Francisco, was that he was afraid that if it was carried on in Sacramento, the witnesses by which he wished to prove this charge would be sent out of the way by the guilty parties he desired to bring to punishment. The Senate, however, could not see it in this light, and Mr. McCarthy refusing to answer any further questions in relation to who the guilty or lucky seven honorable Senators were who received the $12,000 apiece, after a long debate lasting until a late hour, he was ordered to be committed to the County Jail for contempt until he did answer. He was, however, only constructively imprisoned, and remained in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and this morning a writ of habeas corpus was sued out for his discharge, made returnable at 10 o'clock to Judge McKune, of the District Court. The case has been further continued to 7 o'clock this evening, when as able counsel have been retained on each side; lengthy arguments will be made, and a decision will probably not be rendered before to-morrow. After an exciting fight, the bill of Judge Hale, which passed the Senate, was ratified by the Assembly by virtually confirming your fellow-townsman Stratton, as State Librarian. Verily, Placer county is hard to beat, when her politicians take off their coats and roll up their sleeves.

SIMON SNAPPER.

KISSING—HOW IT SHOULD BE DONE.—The gentleman should be taller than the lady he intends to kiss. Take her hand in yours and draw her gently to you, pass your left hand over her right shoulder, diagonally down across her back, under her left arm; press her to your bosom, at the same time she will throw her head back, and you will have nothing to do but to lean a little forward and press your lips to hers, and then the thing is done. Don't make a noise over it as if you were firing off firecrackers, nor pounce upon it like a hungry hawk upon an innocent dove; but gently fold the damsel in your arms without smashing her stand up collar or spoiling her curls or waterfall, and by a sweet pressure of her mouth revel in the blissfulness of your situation, without smacking your lips over it as you would over a glass of lager beer. How we should like to take lessons.

SINGULAR SPEECH OF THE PRESIDENT.

CHICAGO, February 23rd.

The Republican's special correspondent gives a full report of the President's speech delivered yesterday. The Grover's Theater meeting adjourned to the White House to present the resolutions endorsing the President's veto. There assembled in front of the White House a noisy crowd of two thousand persons. The President came out and said:

"It is extremely gratifying to know that so large a portion of my fellow-citizens approve the policy adopted, and which I intend to carry out. The day is peculiarly appropriate to the endorsement of a policy whose object is the restoration of the Union, as designed by the Father of his Country. I stand here to-day as I stood in the Senate in 1860 and 1861, when I denounced traitors who were trying to break up the Government. There were two parties—one of which was determind to destroy the Government to save slavery, while the other, almost equally dangerous, was equally willing to break up the Government to destroy slavery. Whether disunionists come from the North or South, I stand now as I did then, vindicating the Union and Constitution. [Tremendous applause.] The Government has stretched forth its strong arm, and with physical power put down treason in the field. Their armies have been disbanded, and they come forward now, in a proper spirit, and say: 'We are mistaken; we made an effort to carry out the doctrine of secession, and to dissolve the Union. In that we have failed. We have traced this doctrine to its logical and physical results, and find we were mistaken. We acknowledge the flag of our country, are willing to obey the Constitution and yield to the supremacy of the laws.' [Great applause.] Coming in that spirit I say to them: 'When you have yielded to law, when you have acknowledged allegiance, I will, as far as I can, open the door of the Union to those who have erred and strayed for a time.' [Great applause.] The spirit of revenge is not the spirit with which to deal with a whole people. I know there has been a great deal said about the exercise of the pardoning power. There is no one who has labored with more earnestness than myself to have the principal, intelligent and conscious traitors brought to justice, the law vindicated, and the great fact judicially established that treason is a crime. [Applause.] But while the conscious, leading, and intelligent traitors are to be punished, should whole communities, States and peoples submit to the penalty of death? No, no; let those who have erred, be punished; but to the great multitude, forced into the rebellion, I say leniency and kindness. We put down the rebellion in order to prevent the separation of the States, but when the struggle on our part is successful, we find an effort to concentrate all power in the hands of a few at the Federal head, and thereby establish a new principle, equally as objectionable as separation. The Government may be revolutionized without war, and this is the most dangerous, because its progress is not so easily watched. What is now being proposed? We find, in point of fact, that nearly all the powers of Government are assumed by an irresponsible central directory, which does not even consult the Legislative or Executive Departments. In this committee it seems that practically all legislative power is now vested. The great principle which authorizes each branch of the Legislative Department to judge for itself of the qualifications of its own members has been virtually taken away from the two branches and conferred upon a committee. I fought traitors and treason in the South. Now when I turn around and find men, I care not by what name you call them, still opposed to restoring the Union, I am free to say to you that I am still in the field." [Great applause.]

Voices—"Name them! Who are they?"

President—"You ask me who they are. I say Thaddeus Stevens of Pennsylvania is one. Sumner, of the Senate, is another; and Wendell Philips is another." [Long continued applause.]

Voices—"Give it to Forney."

President—"In reply to that I will simply say that I do not waste my ammunition on dead ducks. [Laughter and applause.] I stand for my country. I stand for the Constitution. There I have placed my feet since my advent into public life. They may traduce, they may slander or they may vituperate me, but let me say to you all that it has no influence upon me. [Applause.] Let me say further that I do not intend to be overawed by real or pretended friends, nor do I mean to be bullied by my enemies. [Tremendous applause.] Honest conviction is my courage. The Constitution is my guide. I know my countrymen. It has been insinuated—no, not insinuated—it has been said directly in high circles that if such usurpation of power as I am charged with had been exercised two hundred years ago, it would have cost the individual his head. Of what usurpation has Andrew Johnson been guilty? [None none!] Is it usurpation that I stand between the people and the encroachments of power from the same source? Exclamation has gone forth that they were in the midst of earthquakes, that they were trembling and could not yield. Yes, fellow-citizens there is an earthquake coming. There is a grand swelling of popular judgement and indignation. [Applause] The American people will speak and by their instinct, if not otherwise, will know who are their enemies. I have endeavored to be true to the people in positions which I have occupied, and there is hardly a position in this Government I have not at some time filled. I suppose it will be said that this is vanity. [Applause.] But I may say that I have been in all of them. I have been in both branches of the State Legislature."

Voice—"You commenced a tailor."

President—"A gentleman behind me says I began as a tailor. Yes, I did begin as a tailor. [Applause.] That suggestion does not discomfit me in the least, for when I was a tailor I had a reputation of being a good one, and making coats to fit. [Laughter.] I was always punctual to my customers, and did good work." [Applause.]

Voice—"We will patch up the Union yet."

The President—"No, I don't want any patchwork; I want the original articles restored. Point to the man who can say Andrew Johnson ever acted with infidelity to the great mass of the people. [Great Applause.] Men may talk about beheading and about usurpation, but when I am behe. ded I want the American people to be the witnesses. I do not want it by inuendoes and indecent remarks in high places to be suggested to men who have assassination brooding in their bosoms. Others have explained that the present obstacle must go out of the way. What is that but—I make use of a strong word—but inciting to assassination? No doubt, I say, the intention was to incite to assassination, that the obstacle which the people had placed here could be got out of the way. Are the opponents of this Government not yet satisfied? Are those who want to destroy our institutions and change the character of the Government, not satisfied with the quantity of blood that has been shed? Are they not satisfied with one martyr in this place? If my blood must be shed because I vindicate the Union, remember that the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church. This seed will grow and increase in strength and power, though it may be cemented and cleansed in blood. One word about amendments to the Constitution. In conversation with Lincoln last February he indicated a desire for an amendment compelling the States to send Senators and Representatives to Congress, because it was part of the doctrine of secession that the States might withdraw their Senators and Representatives or refuse to elect them. Now we find Congress persistently refusing admission to Representatives, though daily imposing new burdens of law and taxation on the unrepresented South. I regard this as a fundamental error. I never insisted on encroachments on the Constitution, and I stand prepared to resist them to-day. Would to God the whole American people could be assembled here to-day, as you are, and could witness the great struggle going on to preserve the Constitution of their fathers. They would soon settle the question, if they could only see the kind of spirit manifested to break up the principles of free government.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU BILL.

As the late veto of this bill by the President has provoked much comment throughout the country, and being the primary cause of an open, and what now seems a permanent rupture between Congress and the Executive, we give below a synopsis of its leading features:

SECTION 1. Original Act to continue in force; President to establish twelve or less districts, with an Assistant Commissioner for each, to be appointed, or, in his discretion, detailed from the army.

SEC. 2. The Commissioner to assign sub-districts, with one agent to each. Assistant Commissioners may have six clerks, agents of sub-districts two; military jurisdiction to extend over all employés of the Bureau.

SEC. 3. The Secretary of War may direct such issues of provisions, clothing, fuel, for refuges and freedmen, as he deems needful.

SEC. 4. The President may reserve for freedmen and refugees 3,000,000 acres of unoccupied lands in Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas, which the Commissioner of the Bureau shall allot in 40-acre parcels; rent thereof to be based on a valuation of the land, and occupants may purchase at assessed value.

SEC. 5. Titles to Sea Islands, etc., under Sherman's orders, confirmed for three years.

SEC. 6. The Commissioner shall purchase lands required for support of dependent freedmen and refugees, and build asylums and schools; Congress to provide appropriations for the same, and the lands not to be sold at less than cost.

SEC. 7. Where right of labor, of contract, of inheritance, of property, the equal benefit of laws, security of person, etc., are denied to freedmen, the President shall extend military jurisdiction and jurisprudence for their protection.

SEC. 8. Whoever subjects any freedman to slavery or involuntary servitude, except as punishment for crime, or discriminates between white and black in penalties, shall be punished by a fine of $1,000 and one year's imprisonment. Officers of the Bureau to have jurisdiction of all such complaints, so long as and wherever such discrimination on account of color continues, and wherever State and United States Courts are not in full and peaceful operation.

WOULDN'T MARRY A MECHANIC.—A young man commenced visiting a young woman, and appeared to be well pleased. One evening he came when it was quite late, which led the girl to inquire where he had been.

'I had to work to-night,' replied the young man.

'Do you work for a living?' inquired the astonished girl.

'Certainly; I am a mechanic,' he replied.

'My brother doesn't work hard, and I dislike a mechanic,' and she turned up her pretty little nose.

This was the last time the mechanic visited the young woman. Now he is a wealthy man, and has one of the best of women for a wife. The young lady who disliked the name of mechanic is now the wife of a miserable fool—a regular vagrant about grog shops—and she, poor, miserable girl, obliged to support herself and her children.

Ye who dislike the name of mechanic, whose brothers do nothing but loaf and dress, beware how you distrust men who work for a living. Far better discard the well-fed pauper, with all his rings and brazen facedness and pomposity, and take to your affections the callous handed, industrious, intelligent mechanic. Thousands have bitterly repented the folly, who have turned their backs to honest industry. A few years of bitter experience taught them a serious lesson. In this country a man or woman should not be respected, in our way of thinking, who would not work mentally or physically, ank who curl their lips with scorn when introduced to a hard-working man.

HOME.—What a feeling does that simple word convey to his ears who knows the real blessings of a home—that shelter from the world, its jealousies and its envies, its turmoils and its disappointments; where, like some land-locked bay, the still, calm waters sleep in silence while the storm and hurricane are roaring without; where glad faces and bright looks abound; where each happiness is reflected from every heart and ten times multiplied, and every sorrow comes softened by consolation and words of comfort—and how little like this is the abode of the great leaders of fashion! how many of the fairest gifts of humanity are turned black by the glare of a hundred wax candles and the glitter of gilded lackeys; and how few of the charities of life find entrance where the splendor and luxury of voluptuous habits have stifled natural feelings, and made every sympathy unfashionable!

DEFINITION OF A BLUSH.—A writer in the Medical Gazette gives the following incid explanation of the phenomenon of a blush: "The mind communicates with the centre ganglion; the latter by inflex action through the brain and facial nerve, with the organic nerves in the face, with which its branches inosculate." The explanation beats Dr. Johnson's celebrated definition of "network;" "Anything reticulated or decussated at equal distances, with interstices between the intersections.

A LITTLE girl in school, being asked what a cataract or waterfall was, replied that it was hair flowing over something she didn't know what.

IT is just as sensible a move to undertake to get married without courting, as to attempt to succeed in business without advertising.

"WHAT flower of beauty shall I marry?" said a young spendthrift to his miserly governor." To which the governor replied with a grim smile: "Marigold."

THE DUEL ON THE DIKE.

It was a fair day on the river Ohio. The grand saloons of the steamer Kishicoquillas were crowded with passengers. The ladies in the after portions lounged upon luxurious divans, sipping cooling beverages, or sleeping over recent literature, and in and out among them played a dark-eyed child who now and then cried petulently for papa. The latter sat in the dim, close, forward cabin, at one of the many card-tables. He was pale and agitated, for he was losing heavily. Little by little fortune had beckoned him on, and now that she was receding he gambled recklessly—but the cool, clever gentleman, with the curling hair, sitting opposite, swept off the eagles without a smile. The loser was wild: at each misfortune he doubled his stakes, the winner always closing with him, though carelessly; and it was not hard to read in the former's darkening face that he counted his losses seriously. It was a game of poker, and there were many participants, but these two divided all attention. Five cards were dealt to each, and the players wagered upon the relative values of their suits of sequences. If the troubled man held four tens, the other was certain to hold four knaves; twice he held kings, the other called four aces.

"I do not own a dime in the world," cried the pale gentlemac, at last; "will you stake two hundred dollars against my watch?"

The person with the flowing hair bowed politely.

"I go the watch upon my hand," cried the pale gentleman, sanguinely desperate.

"I raise you two hundred dollars," the person answered gravely. "You have a handsome emerald upon your finger—will you stake it for that amount?"

The pale man threw it down with a curse.

"I show four queens," he said.

"The ring and watch are mine," replied the other calmly. "I show four kings."

The pale man sprung from his chair with a howl.

"I call God to witness that I have been swindled!" he hissed. "I am disgraced, ruined. The money I have lost was not mine.—That man has made me a thief, and he wears upon his finger my poor wife's wedding ring."

In another instant he had scattered his own brains upon the bystanders.

The survivor wiped his coat complacently, and lit a fresh cigar. The steamer was passing at some station, and amid the haste and confusion, he stepped pleasantly ashore. The lines had been cast adrift, the wheels spun around again, the boat moved on, when a shrill piercing scream arose from the throng. It was the dark-eyed child, and he had found his papa.

"Come here, my little timara," said an old negro steward, lifting the boy aloft, and wiping his eyes. "Does yer see a gen'lman yonder on the quay a mos' respec'ble gen'lman agwine 'n de hack? Dat man has got yer pa's golden ewels."

The boy marked fiercely through his tears he shapely limbs and the long, bright ringlets, and on the stranger's white hand the glitter of the dead man's gem. A gush of grief drowned out the scene, and the steamer drifted away.

Twenty years followed, and each year witnessed up on the Western waters its host of dupes and blacklegs. But among the latter class there was one singularly eccentric and successful. He never lost.

There were no impossibilities in the games which he played. He was a necromancer with cards; with some there were chances—he made all chances a certainty. He plundered the poor and the rich, yet cast their purses back again with scorn in his dark eyes; and he was invariably searching for a gentlemanly tourist with flowing hair, upon whose track he seemed to be forever, yet whom he never found. At times he would leap from the gaming table, as a steamer passed, exclaiming that he saw the object of his search, and offered the captain his fortune to turn and overtake him. He remarked him upon rafts and landings, and in receding villages, and among the thousand faces of busy cities. Yet, with those glimpses the figure passed away and the years passed by, and the traveling public thought the young man crazy—though not upon the subject of cards.

They met one day—the pursuer and pursued—after all those twenty years. It was a fair afternoon on the Mississippi, and upon the steamer Kishicoquillas. They sat in the forward cabin at one end of the many tables, and the floor at the feet of the pursuer was dark with ancient blood stains.

"I beg your pardon," he said quietly, bending his eyes upon his opponent. "will you change places with me?"

The flowing hair of the other was very gray, but he was as calm as winter, and only for a moment he faltered.

"If you insist," he answered pleasantly; "it can give you no advantage."

They were wonderfully matched, but the young man won. They wagered extravagantly and waited deliberately, but the young man always won.

"I will play you my watch," said the elderly man—and the young man won.

"I have nothing more," smiled the pursued, as cold as a stalagmite.

"I see a handsome ring upon your finger—an emerald—will you hazard it?"

The old man laid it down after a pause. "It's my last ornament," he muttered; "I show four queens."

"And I!" shrieked the dark-eyed youth, tossing away gold, table, and chairs—"I show four kings! The ring is mine. You won it from my father whom you murdered. His blood fell where you stand, and where I will have yours.

They grappled at once; knives flashed in the dark, close cabin, and pistols clicked and snapped. The boat's officers and bystanders rushed in and tore apart, and they would have beaten the young man that his hand was raised against gray hairs.

"Give de boy fair play!" cried an old negro steward, "I knows 'em both. Dese eyes saw de fader of de young mas'r stretched at de murder's feet. Let 'em ashore, captain. Give each of dem a knife, and let de boat go on."

They placed them upon a slippery dike, a marsh on one side, where slimy alligators lay basking, and on the other hand the broad, turbid Mississippi. The passengers crowded aft; they fell upon each other in the clear light of the afternoon; their knives glittered an instant, and then the avenger stood alone with gray hair at his feet.

A boat coming down the river put in for the solitary tourist, and the rival vessels began to measure speed. They summoned every inch of steam to whirl their gleaming wheels, and the members of either craft trembled like a shipwreck. There was a booming crash, a gush of vapor and fire, and shrieks piercing the sky and river—the hindmost steamer burst into fragments; the avenger and the avenged were equal.

TO smile at the jest that plants a thorn in another's bosom, is to become a principal in the mischief.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1866

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Ours'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

THE MITE SOCIETY.—The meeting of this Society, at the residence of Mr. Farr, on Tuesday evening last, was not very numerously patronized, but a more sociable little party than was assembled on the occasion, it has seldom been our good fortune to attend, and to crown all, more beauty and intelligence in the tender sex, was never displayed at a party of similar size in our town. Our hand and seal for it, which we are confident we could support by the sworn affidavits of all those who were present and participated in the exercises, that it was an agreeable, nice little affair, and conducive of much genuine enjoyment. We are free to confess, and take much pleasure in doing so, that we were treated in a manner that "done us proud." Nothing occurred to mar the festivities, and at eleven o'clock, when we made our exit, "the ball goes on," everybody marking time to music—"with its voluptuous swell"—produced by Messrs. Glasscock and Austin. We failed to get the receipts of the evening, but are satisfied that the boys "come out" with their usual liberality. The next meeting takes place at the Golden Eagle Hall, on Tuesday evening next, the 6th inst., to which, as usual, a general invitation is entended.

A GOOD MOVE.—Petitions are being circulated pretty generally throughout the upper portion of this county, praying the Legislature to enact a law reducing the maximum rates now allowed the Central Pacific Railroad Company for passengers and freight carried in this State, to a standard which will be just to the people and equitable to said Company. This we consider a move in the right direction, for it is a notorious fact that if under present rates the Railroad is any benefit to the traveling public we "can't see it." The time was, when we could go through to Sacramento by stage for $8, but now, when we travel nearly the entire distance by rail, we are charged $8 50. The rates, too, charged for freight, is entirely too high, and we trust that our Legislature and the Placer and Nevada delegations especially, will heed the prayer of the petitioners, and see to it that the relief sought in the premises is speedily granted

THE C. P. R. Co. have about sixty men, aided by several hundred inches of water, engaged in sluicing out the deep cut, just below Gold Run, that was filled up by a huge slide during the late stormy weather. We learn that the Company by adopting this method of removing the obstruction thus occasioned, will not only save much time, but also, many thousand dollars. The work along the entire line in this vicinity, both above and below, is progressing finely since the abatement of the storm, and with continued good weather, the days intervening may be numbered as few, when we shall be aroused from our morning slumbers by the shrill whistle of the "iron-horse" and the cry of "all aboard for Colfax, Auburn and Sacramento." So mote it be.

DITCH BROKE.—We learn that on Tuesday last, the gang of men employed by the Railroad Company, and engaged in constructing the cut just east of this place and near the large reservoir belonging to the Dutch Flat Water Company, taped the trunk or tunnel leading to the reservoir, which resulted in a general sluicing out of Chinamen, wheel-barrows, carts and everything else moveable. The foreman while endeavoring to shut the water off, turned the bar the wrong way, thus letting a full-head escape, which, of course, added to the fury of the torrent. We hear of no damage worthy of note, except the loss of water by the Ditch Company, which cannot be inconsiderable, as they have sale for all the water their ditches afford.

SOCIAL BALL AT GOLD RUN.- Mr. Rice, of the Gold Run Hotel, will give a grand social ball, on Tuesday evening, the 8th inst.. His heretofore capacious dancing hall has been enlarged; a fine supper will be served; good music has been engaged, and every preparation will be made that is calculated to conduce to the comfort of those who may be fortunate enough to attend. The Gold Run folks are eminently sociable, and we say to all who are desirous of having a good time, by all means go. A stage will be in readiness to take passengers from this place and the surrounding country.

THE saddle train that has been plying between this place and Colfax for the last month, was superceeded on Monday last by the Pioneer Stages resuming their regular trips, with fair prospects of being able to make them in the future. The roads are good with the exception of a few places, and the stages are making excellent time. We notice, too, an increase in the amount of travel.

FROM a friend, who hails direct from Summit City, we learn that the weather is fine and unusually warm for that altitude. Already emigrants have began to pour in, and times are looking up. The trail is broke connecting with the Donner Lake road at Polley's, and Tibbetts, the pioneer expressman, is making daily trips over it with pack animals.

THROUGH the energy of our friend Dr. Traphagen, Postmaster at Colfax, daily mails have been established from that place to Grass Valley, Nevada, Iowa Hill and Damascus, all of which connect daily with the mails for this place. Persons residing at any of the above places can communicate with us now by mail, with as much dispatch as formerly by express.

WE are authorized to announce that there will be a musical entertainment given at the M. E. Church Parsonage, on Wednesday evening next, March 7th, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the salary of the Minister. The public generally are invited to attend.

GOOD YIELD.—We learn that C. C. Brogan, of Gold Run, recently cleared up $2,500, the result of eighteen days washing. This is especially encouraging, as a large area of the same kind of ground remains to be worked.

JOHNSON AND HIS VETO.

From all that we can find out the President has commenced carrying a programme which he doubtless had decided upon within himself since the assassination of the lamented Lincoln. He has been satisfying the party which raised him to power with fine-spun speeches embodying a seeming adherence to the principles of republican government since he was required to take the oath of office; protesting as to his determination to pursue and fulfill the measures and promises of his predecessor; and during all this time he has been contemplating treachery, not only to the Union party, but to all who had staked their interests in republican institutions; recent events conclusively prove to every righted person that during the time which has elapsed since the suppression of the rebellion, he has been gradually drifting into the arms of the very cabal which attempted the overthrow of the Government, and finally accomplished the death of the Chief Magistrate of the nation. He has promised everything asked by the real lovers of liberty, but when the time came for action he has utterly failed to redeem his pledges; he has exercised Executive clemency in the wholesale pardoning of the vilest traitors that was ever allowed liberty under any civilized nation, and entirely repudiated every pledge made in seeming good faith to the people. He has now apparently thrown off all restraint, both of decency and honor—such as should be found in the head of a great nation—and taken sides with those who for four years were numbered as the acknowledged enemies of our Government. By his unexpected veto of the bill in relation to the Freedman's Bureau—unexpected because the people innocently placed confidence in pledges which were never intended to be redeemed—he has shown his true colors. We confess we were greatly staggered when we found that Seward was his apologist, but subsequent events have satisfied us that this action on the part Vizier is but a scheme whereby to raise up a party of which he should be the head and front. The President has fully met the approval of those for whom he exercised the pardoning power, and would doubtless, were he allowed the privilege, receive the congratulations of Jeff. Davis, for the treason and perfidity he has been guilty of toward the Union party.

It would not at all surprise us, were it possible to investigate the matter, or had the loyal people at the time suspected such a thing—if facts could not be brought which would be anything but complimentary to Mr. Johnson, in regard to a certain note found on the table in his room the day after the assassination of Mr. Lincoln, which contained a request from the assassin, J. Wilkes Booth for an interview. Such an occurrence, at such a time would have been the means of hanging almost any other man in the nation, and Mr. Johnson can thank the credulous Abolitionists that he was allowed the privilege of taking the oath of office. We do not charge him with any undue knowledge in regard to that terrible event, but say that one less trusted than he was then would have been liable to have been suspected. All those with whom he acted ten years ago are now sounding his praises for his non-compliance with his oft repeated and sacredly uttered pledges; "while they praise the treachery they loath the traitor," to all that one in high official station should hold dear. We are now in favor of the loyal people arraigning him at the bar of public opinion and formally trying him for his premeditated delinquencies. Those whom he swore to lead to the promised land of liberty, happiness and intelligence, he has deserted, and as a reward for his wanton disregard for all a man should hold sacred is receiving the just and merited curses of an outraged and injured people for the shameful manner in which he has deceived them and the ridiculous harangue—in which he has made the nation a by-word—in attempting to justify his course.

RAILROAD BONDS.—We understand it is the intention of our county officials to endeavor to have a bill passed the Legislature at an early day, authorizing the Board of Supervisors of this county to set apart a certain fund for the redemption of the said railroad bonds subscribed by this county, before the time fixed by law, 1868. The county, we believe, are compelled to redeem their bonds in twenty years from the date specified above, and the bill contemplates the redemption of the bonds immediately, or so much thereof as may be possible. This is an excellent move, as it will save the county something over twenty thousand dollars if it is carried into effect. The bill will allow the Supervisors the privilege of selling the indebtedness created by the subscription, and should they fix the highest amount at 65 or 70 cents on the dollar the saving would be immense, not only from the amount of interest saved but in the amount made by this course of procedure. We understand that the Railroad Company have expressed a willingness, themselves, to take the bonds at 70 cents on the dollar. Considering there is now fifteen thousand dollars in the County Treasury, that could be devoted to this object, we see no reason why the Legislature should not authorize the Board of Supervisors to commence the redemption of the county bonds as soon as possible. The amount now in the treasury is lying idle, does nobody any good, and when we can redeem some twenty-one thousand five hundred dollars with the fifteen, we see no good objection which can be urged against doing so; unless it is the calculation that our people should be needlessly taxed.

WE notice that Sacramento and San Francisco merchants are taking steps to secure the immense and rapidly increasing trade of Idaho and Montana. Committees have been appointed to examine the various routes and report the most practicable. The commercial advantages growing out of the demands of these new and vastly rich Territories, and to be secured to our own State, if diverted into the proper channel, are too obvious to need elucidation. The Colorado route finds some warm friends, but we incline to the opinion that easier and cheaper communication may be had by the Valley of the Humboldt than any other route that can be adopted.

WE will publish an original story from the racy pen of J. F. Maguire, which was received too late for this issue, in our next.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28, 1866.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:—I regret to observe from your last issue that owing to my desire to give you the particulars of the agreement of the McCarthy habeas corpus case before Judge McKune on the night of the 22d, my letter of last week was too late for insertion. This week in the language of Mrs. Partington, I have determind to take "time by the firelock," and be in season if possible.

Not satisfied by the decision rendered by Judge McKune of the District Court, McCarthy's counsel carried the case up to the Supreme Court where it was argued at length on Saturday by McCarthy's counsel, Messrs. Goods and Coffroth—and Attorney General McCullogh, and Hon. N. Greene Curtis on behalf of the Senate. After a patient perusing of the elaborate arguments of counsel, by the Court consisting of Judges Sanderson, Sawyer, and Curry; the former rendered a lengthy and weighty opinion to the effect that the Senate was endowed with powers and jurisdiction of the same nature as a Grand Jury, and had an equal right to order to prison a contumacious witness who might refuse to testify before them and McCarthy was accordingly remanded to the custody of the Sheriff, to be held in jail until he should purge himself of the contempt for which he was committed. The Flag man still remains to use the favorite expression of an Irish friend, "firrum," and still refuses to testify, as I and a good many others cognizant of the history of this matter fully and religiously believe—for the very good and sufficient reason that he has nothing of the slightest importance to testify to in relation to the matter. The charges in the Flag that seven Senators had been purchased at $12,000 a head to vote against the repeal of the Specific Contract Law was a vague surmise—an unfounded suspicion having its origin solely in the prolific brain of its author, or to use the language of Henry VIII to his son, whom he detected trying on his crown, "The wish was father to the thought." This being the sole foundation upon which this slanderous charge was based the proprietor of the Flag undoubtedly imagined that if he could get a committee to San Francisco with power to summon witnesses, the private business of the leading firms of that city might be rated up and espied, creating a sensation of which he would be the hero and centre and his paper the organ. But he reckoned without his host; the Senate took more prompt and stringent measures to protect its honor and punish contempt than he at first supposed and he is now reaping the reward of his folly. A newspaper man all his life your correspondent always deprecated slanders of either public bodies or private individuals, and when the Press that conservator of public morals, advocate of justice, and whose province it is to redress public and private wrong, becomes the vehicle of slander, vituperation, malignant venom and private malice, it is time that such a nuisance—for it is nothing less—should be abated.

Laboring under the hallucination that they had earned their week's pay both Houses adjourned over from Saturday to Tuesday, the majority, as usual, going to San Francisco, to see the elephant, Uncle Abe Warmer's bears, monkeys, and other varmints at North Road. The balloon ascension at the Willows and the learned pig. Prior to going on this tour of relaxation the Assembly had debated at length the Registry Law which had previously passed the Senate. Although a number of the Union members, including Speaker pro tem Wilcox, Lee, of Alpine, Hopper of Sacramento, and others made speeches against the measure, upon taking the vote yesterday, the bill passed by ayes 44, noes 27.

A series of resolutions introduced on Saturday, sustaining the action of Congress in relation to the Freedman's Bureau, and lauding Senator Conness for his vote to pass the bill over the President's veto, was introduced on Saturday, and after lengthy discussion then and today—Wilcox and other Union members taking ground against them, were passed by a vote of Ayes, 47; Noes, 26. These two matters constitute the most important moves on the Legislative chess-board since my last. The Assembly is far in advance of the Senate, which body will have to "hurry up the cakes," if the calculate to get through business within the time allotted by the Constitution. In this case the maxim that "large bodies move slowly," is directly reversed. So far as I can learn, all the local legislation demanded by Placer County has been put through by your industrious and energetic members of the two Houses.

The members of the Legislature and citizens, were treated to an exhibition by the pupils of the State Deaf and Dumb and Blind Institution, which took place before a crowded audience in the Assembly Chamber this evening. The exhibition was conducted by Mr. Wilkinson, a gentleman who arrived from the Atlantic States some three months since to take charge of this Institution. The proficiency exhibited by the deaf mutes in writing composition, and the other branches of the blind, in music, and reading from raised letters was really wonderful, and drew down the repeated applause of the audience. As the manner in which this most important institution, which has been so liberally endowed by the State, has not heretofore met with any great degree of public approbation, the accession of so competent a teacher as Mr. Wilkinson is hailed by its friends as most auspicious.

You have doubtless learned from the papers that Gelston, who while a clerk in the Adjutant General's office, a short time since by means of forged pay-rolls, for which offence he was committed in default of $32,000 bail, escaped from jail on Saturday night, and notwithstanding Sheriff McClatchy has offered a reward of $500, nothing has since been heard of him.—That he was aided in his escape by confederates on the out-side there can be no doubt.

Wells the murderer, arrived in San Francisco on the steamer from the North yesterday, and will doubtless be brought up on to-nights boat. It is said there is no mistaking his identity. The Democracy had a big meeting last night to endorse Andy Johnson, and the Union Party had one on Friday night, to endorse Congress.

SIMON SNAPPER.

FORNEY'S article in the Philadelphia Press, which is said excited the ire of President Johnson, and caused him to withdraw Executive patronage from the Washington Chronicle, has been telegraphed. It charges the President with premeditated treachery to the Union party, with being recreant to the trust reposed in him, with making promises he had no intention to redeem, with courting the council and society of copperheads and traitors, and with disgusting the Union members of Congress by his incoherent and illogical harangues. Hence it was that the President in referring to Forney, saw fit to apply the vulgar, undignified and shameful epithet of "dead-duck."

QUID NUNC is after N. D. again this week with a "sharp-stick," but his letter was received too late for this issue. Shall appear in our next.

THE LECTURE delivered by Rev. N. R. Peck on the subject of Woman, at the M. E. Church on Thursday evening last, was an able logical effort, and very well attended. We endorse it fully, (particularly the lecturers timely advice to the young ladies on the subject of matrimony.) and can assure those who were not present, that they missed a rare intellectual treat. Another lecture is to be delivered by the same gentleman at an early day, of which due notice will be given.

We are reminded to say in this connection, that the ladies in the interest of the M. E. Church, have organized a Church Aid Society, for the purpose of raising means to erect a belfry, paint the church and make other necessary improvements—certainly a laudable undertaking, and one that should enlist the prompt encouragement of every public spirited citizen of ourtown. How the ladies propose to raise the desired amount, further than by a series of lectures that is contemplated, we are not advised. We presume however, that a short time will fully develop their plans.

THE Registry Act passed the Assembly a few days ago by a handsome majority, and now only requires the Governor's approval which it is certain to receive to become a law. It is, in our judgement, one of the best laws passed by the present Legislature, tending as it does, to abolish many of the frauds that have heretofore been systematically practiced by unscrupulous individuals, on the legally qualified electors.

IF you desire your goods forwarded with dispatch consign them to the care of Worrell & Co. Commission Merchants at Colfax. They are energetic, reliable business men, and in every way worthy of the confidence and patronage of the public. We call attention to their advertisement to be found in another column of this issue.

THE names of the Senators who voted in favor of the passage of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, and subsequently voted against its passage over the President's veto, are Wm. M. Stewart, of Nevada; Morgan, of New York; Dixon, of Connecticut; Norton, of Minnesota, and Doolittle, of Wisconsin.

THE county officers elect of this county will be sworn in on Monday next.

MARRIED.

At Colfax, February 24th, by J. H. Neff, J. P., Mr. William Bonefice, of Austin, Nevada, to Mrs. W. M. Brown, of Colfax.

BORN.

In Dutch Flat, February 25th, to the wife of Dr. D. W. Strong, of a daughter.

DIED.

In Auburn, March 1, 1866, CHARLES BUTLER, youngest son of WALTER B. and MARY T. LYON, aged 2 years, 8 months and 18 days.

And yet another one of the household gods has passed from earth to the bosom of its Creator. May "He who holds us in the hollow of His hand" so comfort the bereaved parents as to cause them to feel that this separation is but temporary; that in but a few years at best they will again clasp their little CHARLIE in their arms whilst shouting hosannahs to "Him who doeth all things well."

"Gone from the beautiful eyes the light:
Grandmamma's darling is dying to-night.
Faintly and sweetly yielding his breath;
Plague-stricken cherub! Pitiless death!
Hushed the lip's melody—heart-throbbings still;
Merciful Father, we bow to Thy will.
Hide up the toy-things—the shoes put away;
Lambs from Christ's bosom go never astray.
White robes enfold him—they lay him away;
Hearts are nigh breaking; help, Father, we pray.
Help of the helpless! grant Thy spirit that we Forbid not our darling to come unto Thee.

The Voice of the Press,

The editorials are of the ablest character; the news department is presided over by the best talent of the country, and the miscellaneous matter is evidently selected by editors who are adepts in the business. In short, it is a tremendous newspaper, and what we admire quite as much, a very handsome one.—TRINITY JOURNAL.

Many of the leading articles in the AMERICAN FLAG when carefully perused, cannot fail to make the lover of his country tremble. They are unmistakably a plain chess-board of the future, and will serve as a beacon light on the political paths of the nation. A large number of these articles are worthy of republication in book form.—LOS ANGELES NEWS.

THE FLAG is to be trusted as a true Union paper without deceit, which no motive of interest can turn from its course; and which cannot be swayed by favor or intimidated by threat. It is a first-class journal and ought to receive the hearty support of the true Union men of San Francisco and the interior. STOCKTON INDEPENDENT.

We have received the AMERICAN FLAG, published at San Francisco, California. It is printed on a double sheet larger than the New York Tribune, and is by far the ablest and best newspaper in the State.—LITCHFIELD (CT.) ENQUIRER.

THE AMERICAN FLAG is the truest, ablest, and most fearless defender of the Union cause in this State. There is no other paper that can be compared with it in any respect. It is independent of cliques, cabals and factions.—NEVADA GAZETTE.

THE AMERICAN FLAG exceeds in variety and interest of its contents any paper west of the Rocky Mountains. It is justly entitled to the hearty friendship of all Union men. The Press generally have accorded it the honor due to their giant cotemporary.—ESMERELDA UNION.

NEW YEAR'S BILLS.

BY THE FATHER OF A FAMILY.

Those New Year's bills! those New Year's bills!
They are the worst of human ills,
The sight of them all pleasure kills:
They crush it like the stones of mills,
With grief and fear their presence fills,
The jolliest Jacks and gentlest Jills;
They haunt the drivers of the quills,
While drawing deeds or copying wills;
The toper, as he sits and swills,
Scarce drowns the thoughts of New Year's bills.
Those New Year's bills! those New Year's bills!
They come from Adler and Cohen bills;
From doctors, butchers and Iowa Hill,
For boots and bonnets tapes and twills;
For children's frocks and shirts with frills,
For chops and steaks and grogs and grills,
For fencing lessons, foils and drills,
For teaching Jane her runs and trills,
For curing Kitty's cough and wills;
For mending door and window sills,
For gin which Mr. U. distills;
For brandy sold in kegs and gills,
For medicine made of salt and squills,
For beef and butter, beer and pills.
Those Old Year bills! those New Year's bills!
The thought of them my mind instills
With apprehensions, doubts and chills,
They floor me more than hunting splills.
At New Year's time my comfort mills,
My tears run down in little rills,
Through thinking of those New Year's bills.

"ONCE-A-WEEK."

SENT BELOW AGAIN.—Thomas L. Byrne, who had just served thirty days in the county jail for exercising his muscle on a Celestial, committed another assault a few nights ago on George Graham of this place, for which he was arrested, but upon petitioning Justice Aubury for a change of venue his case was transferred to Justice Neff of Colfax, who in the absence of prosecuting witnesses, and Byrne entering a plea of "guilty," sentenced him to choose between paying a fine of ten dollars, and walking a crack and counting the bricks in the walls of the county jail, at two dollars per day, for a period of five days. Convenience suggesting the latter, and at the earnest solicitation of Deputy Sheriff Gredley, he was induced, and kindly consented to accept the "situation" thus proffered by a magnanimous State, not as an atonement, but a reward for past services and outraging its statutes "made and in such cases provided," and accordingly with commendable promptness he repaired to Auburn, with the view of fulfilling his engagement and liquidating as per terms specified the small amount due the commonwealth, where he is now enjoying regularly, twice a day, his chicken pie (made of beef) and indulging the effulgent hope of a speedy release and return to liberty. But to speak serious, and without any desire to intimate that the punishment in this case is not adequate; for we know not but the assault was provoked; it strikes us very forcibly that putting the county to an expense of a hundred dollars perhaps, for the privilege of boarding an offender of this character a term of five days, putting it mild, is supremely absurd.

MAGNIFICENT CHRISTMAS OR NEW YEAR'S GIFT.—As the season is approaching for gentlemen to select presents for those in whom they feel sufficient interest to compliment in this appropriate way, we take the liberty today of making a suggestion. The suggestion is, to give the Grover & Baker Sewing-Machine the preference over all other articles, either of fancy or utility. Our reasons for giving this preference to the Grover & Baker Machine are more numerous than we have space this morning to express. In the first place, it is more ornate, as an article of furniture, than any other machine in use; then again it is the only machine extant which every intelligent lady can operate from the start without a tedious course of instruction; the stitch for which it is celebrated is the strongest, most neat-looking and durable; it is operated with such a degree of ease that we have, ourselves, seen a little child of four years run it on heavy sewing for hours without any apparent labor; it is the only machine in the world that executes fine Embroidery; and, if there was any other proof needed to place the Grover & Baker instrument in advance of all others, we surely have it in the fact, that from the commencement of its existence to the present time, it has, without one single exception, taken the highest premium wherever it has been exhibited publicly for competition.—Philadelphia Press.

SEVERAL of the State Legislatures that are now in session have adopted resolutions sustaining the Congressional majority—among these are Iowa and Missouri—while Governor Stone, of Iowa telegraphs, "No compromise with traitors—pardoned or unpardoned." The editors of the Union press of Illinois, in their annual convention assembled at Peoria, unanimously resolved to sustain Congress The Legislature of the State of Maine has passed strong resolutions in support of Congress and favoring universal suffrage. In New York, the Secretary of State, Seward, is busily engaged endeavoring to manufacture a Johnson party, and it is said, he feels confident of success, ESCAPED FROM JAIL.—On Saturday night last, M. E. Gelston, who was confined in the Sacramento Jail on sixteen indictments for forgery, made good his escape and has not been heard of since. It is thought by all that he received assistance from the outside which could have been easily rendered, as the officer in charge at the time, was inadvertently absent from his post.

ALL the Union journals east, with the exception, perhaps, of the New York Times, and one or two lesser lights, who favor awaiting "further developments" before censuring, denounce the President in unmeasured terms, and come up to the support of the Congressional majority with equal spirit and unanimity. Our local exchanges, too, nobly stand by their colors, and the copperheads and traitors who went into ecstacies over the prospect of a division of the Union hosts, will therefore find themselves, as usual, doomed to disappointment.

THANKS to Jack Evans, the Mixologist of the Senate, for sundry drinkables.

IF YOU blood is corruption, disordered or vitiated, you are liable to be seized at any moment with a fit of sickness. It may appear in the form of pimples, blotches or sores, or it may suddenly prostrate you. One thing is certain: You cannot have health unless your blood is pure. To remove all impure matters from the blood, Adams' Blood Purifier is admitted to be the best preparation yet introduced to the public. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and will harm no one. Its effects are immediate and lasting. It purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, produces a healthy action of the liver and kidneys, and restores the patient to perfect health and strength. ja3m

DR. J. F. GIBBON.—This celebrated physician has returned to San Francisco, after an absence of a year, during which time he has visited the prominent hospitals in the United States, England and France; and having carefully studied the different mode of treatment in all those establishments, he comes back with full knowledge as to a proper adaptation of them in the effecting of cures here. He has returned and resumed the practice of his profession at No. 617 Kearney street, where his old patients may find him, and those who are suffering from ills which his practice will allow him to cure: His card will be found in another column.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others, to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on the advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

CALIFORNIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand in the mines. Its daily use will the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Dec9-3m

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. Dec-3m

AT LEAST two-thirds of the Diseases with which the human family are afflicted, are brought on by the want of attention to the condition of the Blood. Whenever the blood becomes impure, no matter from what cause, the effects of such impurity are immediately felt, either in one way or another; and unless measures are at once taken to remove such impurities, the whole system becomes affected, and a long fit of sickness and sometimes death is the result. Dr. Samuel Adams, a well-known Chemist of San Francisco, has discovered certain herbs and roots, mostly of California growth, which he has combined with Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Potas, and succeeded in producing a Medicine that, while it is entirely harmless in every particular, will in short time completely eradicate from the Blood all impurities of whatever nature, and will restore the patient to perfect ROBUST HEALTH. The preparation is called "ADAMS' BLOOD PURIFIER," and is for sale at wholesale at the United States Drug Store, corner of Bush and Powell streets, San Francisco, and by Dr. D. W. Strong, Dutch Flat. 40

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Very few persons, even among physicians, would have been willing upon any terms to have been in the condition of the writer of the following letter on the 18th of February last. I will anticipate somewhat his report of the fact to by saying that on the 18th August, ult, he made me a visit, "the very picture of good health." Time, which tries and proves all things, has sufficiently tested this case, and shown that neither relapses nor collapses having followed, the cure is perfect, and can be cited among the scores of similar cases the result of my improved mode of treating diseases without medicine.

G. M. BOURNE.
Water Cure Physician,
No. 10, Masonic Temple, Post street.

AUGUST 27, 1865.

SACRAMENTO, April 30, 1865.

DR. G. M. BOURNE—Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure and satisfaction that I now let you know of my good health. Looking back on what I have passed through, it seems as if I was lifted from the grave, and I think it my duty to acknowledge to you and the world the benefit I derived from water treatment as administered by you in your celebrated baths. It was in August, 1864, when disease developed itself with a severe cough. I then took medicine getting worse, with chills, fevers, loss of strength, and is pronounced consumptive. This set me to thinking, and finally I determined to leave my business and go to Sandwich Islands, having been informed that I could not be cured here. I went to San Francisco, and while waiting for a ship called upon Dr. Bourne, who stated that a trip to the Islands would probably result disastrously, was wholly unnecessary as I could be speedily cured at his establishment. I placed myself under his treatment, and in one week I was so much improved I then felt I could risk returning home and to my duty as Engineer on the Central Pacific Railroad. The Doctor objected; but I thought I knew better, and returned to duty. In about two weeks my cough returned, and I kept getting worse, and contrary to Dr. Bourne's injunction never to take medicine again, committed that folly, and soon was so completely run down that I could scarcely walk; so, as a last resort, I concluded once more to try the Water Cure. I went to San Francisco—few of my friends expecting me to return; in fact, I thought my return doubtful. On arriving at Dr. Bourne's establishment (February 14, 1865,) I was not able to get into the bath without assistance, but in a few days I began to recruit, gain. I remained with him only six weeks, when I left a wiser and a better man," without the aid of medicine. I have now been at work several weeks, and find that I am gaining every day, and at present bid fair to be stouter than ever before. Persons visiting the Doctors establishment find it just what it should be, both in Ladies' and Gentlemen's Departments, and cannot say too much in praise of the Doctor's kind attention to his patients.

This letter I write for the benefit of all the afflicted, to be used as the Doctor decides, and should it be the means of directing any to his care and treatment who (as they assuredly will) find relief, I will be paid for my trouble.

JAMES CAMPBELL,
Engineer Central Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22, 1865.

Advised by the undersigned, Mr. James Campbell, of the Central Pacific Railroad, (who was then in a most deplorable state of ill health,) placed himself under the care of Dr. Bourne, the Water Cure Physician. Some six months or more afterward he visited this city, when I accidentally met him at Dr. Bourne's establishment and am happy to say, restored to the enjoyment of good health, and in fine spirits. JOHN SULLIVAN.

DR. Bourne treats all diseases of the throat, chest, and lungs—which includes diptheria, bronchitis, incipient consumption, pleurisy, croup, etc.—with greatest success. Great relief is afforded in advanced stages of consumption. Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, fever and ague, dropsy, etc., etc., are also cured quickly, pleasant, and economically. No medicine whatever.

Confirmation Strong, of an Interesting Letter.

SACRAMENTO, November 23, 1865.

DEAR DOCTOR:—I received your letter a few days since asking for my photograph, which I will attend to as soon as convenient. At present I am very busy on account of the stormy weather, being out at all times, both night and day, and am enjoying very good health, apprehending no danger if properly careful, as every one should be. I have read my letter in the CALL and other papers, and have been asked several times concerning it, and whether it is correct, and I say I can vouch for its contents, and more if required, and so can a great many other who knew me at that time. I remain your friend,

To G. BOURNE, JAMES CAMPBELL.
San Francisco.

Dr. Bourne takes the liberty to publish the above, as many persons had prophesied the relapse into his former condition, on returning to his duties, of the writer of "An Interesting Letter," whose statements concerning the cure of a well defined case of consumption have recently attracted so much attention to the Water Cure, as improved upon and practised by Dr. Bourne. This additional testimony must prove satisfactory to all reasonable minds. It should be remembered that Dr Bourne uses no medicines whatever, and that his patients almost universally are those who have failed to receive relief from the medical practitioners; yet they are cured with great rapidity, and in a pleasant and agreeable manner. No 10 Masonic Temple, Post street entrance. 3m

SOUTH SIDE O

INTERESTING ANECDOTES OF CORWIN.

Corwin with all his success at the bar, before the people, and in Congress, regarded his life as a failure. We were riding together one sunny morning in the summer of 1860, when he turned and remarked of a speech made the evening before.

'It was very good, indeed, but in a bad style. Never made the people laugh. I see that you cultivate that. It is easy and captivating, but death, in the long run, to the speaker.'

'Why, Corwin you are the last man living I expected such an opinion from.'

'Certainly, because you have not lived as long as I have. Do you know, my young friend, that the world has contempt for the man who entertains it? One must be solemn, solemn as an ass—never say anything that is not uttered with the gravest gravity, to win respect. The world looks up to the teacher and down upon the clown. Yet in nine cases out of ten, the clown is the better fellow of the two.'

'We who laugh may be well content if we are successful as you have been.'

'You think so, and yet were you to consult an old fellow called Thomas Corwin, he would tell you that he considered himself the worst used man in existence; that he has been slighted, abused and neglected, and all for a set of fellows who look wise and say nothing.'

Corwin uttered this with much feeling, and we have no doubt that he expressed what he believed to be the net purport and upshot of his whole life.

He would have made a wonderful comedian. We never saw one who had such a play of features and power of expression. His words seemed to be a running commentary on his countenance, and the hit came from the face, sometimes long before the words reached the audience. We remember a little comedy we saw acted by him, in Springfield, in this State, in 1860. It was more ludicrous from being improvised at the moment.

He was addressing a crowded house in a town hall, and in the midst of a touching description of the struggles and sufferings of our early settlers, that brought tears to every eye in the hall, a little bull terrier trotted down the platform, and stood looking at the audience by Corwin's side. He was a little, round-headed, stump-tailed dog, with projecting under jaw, bow-legs, and ears set up. He presented such a queer spectacle that many in the crowd laughed. Corwin, looking down, saw the cause of the merriment, and waving his hand at the dog, said:

'One at a time, my good fellow.'

The dog retreated a few paces to the rear, and then pausing, cocked his head on one side and eyed the orator. Corwin returned the gaze, and for an instant his face assumed the same comical expression. It was one of stupid wonder, dashed with a bull-terrier's conceit. In a moment Corwin turned and said:

'Confidentially, my friends, I believe he seriously contemplates leaving the other dogs and joining our party.'

No words can paint the look that accompanied this remark, but hundreds of aching sides told of its effects.

When Clay's 'Omnibus Bill,' as it was called, failed, Senator Foote of Mississippi, rose in intense excitement and exclaimed: 'Mr. President, the Republic ceases to exist by noon tomorrow.'

'Yes, sir.'

'Well, now, Foote, I am deeply grieved to hear you make such an announcement. I have several bills before Congress that I am exceedingly interested in. Now, couldn't you, just to gratify me, have this final end adjourned over, say two weeks.'

Foote was extinguished by the laughter that broke out from the Senators sitting near.

By the by, this 'Omnibus Bill' gave rise to the only difference that ever marred the friendship of Clay and Corwin. The prophetic soul of the great Kentuckian saw the ills that were about to break upon our land and sought to avert them by legislative compromises. Corwin felt that we were on the eve of a revolution, but with more genius than his great leader, saw that by the course proposed, we should accomplish by law precisely what we were attempting to prevent. He believed that if the several parts of the Republic could not be harmonized under the Constitution and the laws, as they were, any further concession would only aggravate the evil. He therefore deserted the ranks of the compromisers, and prepared himself to oppose in one of his most elaborate efforts, their mischievous measures.

He was sitting in his room one sunny morning, when, after a loud knock, the tall, gaunt form of Henry Clay stalked in. Approaching the table by which Corwin sat, and before our Senator could rise, he brought his cane down with a bang that made the inkstand bounce, exclaiming in his deep, clear voice:

'Corwin, by G—d, sir, what does this mean?'

Corwin was not the sort of a man to take this rude salutation quietly. He sprang to his feet, and for a second the two Senators glared at each other. Before Corwin could speak, Clay continued:

'Do you know, sir, that we are on the eve of a bloody revolution; that this Republic, the beautiful work of the fathers, will be torn into fragments, while we, its guardians, sit idle or quarreling. I have relied on you, sir, on your patriotism and ability. You were my chief reliance, and now, I understand, you have deserted us.'

'Yes, sir,' responded Corwin. 'I see the dangers before us as plainly as you can; but I cannot see the relief that is to come from the further degradation of a free people to traitors who are bent on our destruction. The South is the aggressor, and we only embolden treason by concession to traitors.'

'I beg your pardon, Clay, but you don't understand me or you would never attempt to dictate or bully me. Good morning, sir.'

And so the two great leaders separated.

Corwin had such a keen appreciation of the ridiculous that it was almost impossible for him to resist giving the ludicrous side of any question or subject presented. It was in this that he did himself injustice. The world has not yet learned that the two qualities of humor and deep sentiment have the same origin. From Shakspeare down through Burns, Hood and Holmes, we find the two always allied and equally perfect. Corwin would move his audience to tears as easily as to laughter, but the last was the more tempting and the more popular. He was an indolent man, his great genius enabling him to do his work with ease, and he gave way to that which was the most pleasant. If we analyze his popular quality, we find in it more of humor than of wit, although he was eminent in the last power. It consisted generally in bringing in ludicrous juxta-position two more dissimilar ideas, as in his great Mexican speech, the picture he drew of Don Walter Colton presenting to the bewildered Mexican the Constitution and rights of man in one hand and a six-barreled revolver in the other; or that other Harrison defense, when he illustrated the militia idea of high strategy by the boar and General Cary, each secure in their base. He had that magnetic power peculiar to successful orators, of putting himself en rapport with his audience. He never raised above or fell below their feelings or intelligence. Hence his peculiar efforts are not the best specimens of his power. It was like scene painting, coarse, striking and effective. In private conversation among friends he shone to the greatest advantage. Then his keen wit, gentle humor, deep pathos and winning frankness had full sway, and captivated like so many fairy charms.

How great was his intellect we can now appreciate by looking back to his more serious efforts, when with his eye of genius gazing sadly down the vista of coming time, he uttered prophesies that have since proved bloody history.

IMPORTANT

MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

ELECTRICITY AS A CURATIVE AGENT

When it was promulgated by the Directors of the Electropathic Institute that disease could be entirely eradicated from the system without the use of poisonous drugs the thoughtless and those who do not look deeply into cause and effect scouted the assertion as chimerical, and wrote articles replete with sophistry, claiming that only through the digestive system could the blood be purged of the poisons which constitute disease; a great cry went up from those interested in the continued supremacy of the old system of one poison to cure another. All of the empirics joined in the chorus, and in their ignorance laughed at the new system, circulating base stories of its ill success, and quoting imaginary cases as proofs. Time has demonstrated their dishonesty. After five years of uninterrupted success the Electropathetic system is the leading idea in medical jurisprudence. While by the old system, physicians are contented to cure one in every five cases, there were those who were diving deep into the science of the curative art; among these were the Electropathists; finally, it was discovered that the failure in most of the cases of organic diseases, was entirely due to the machine. Taking this view of the case, Dr. J. H. Josselyn, after years of experiment, has perfected an Electropathic Instrument, which will cure any disease which flesh is heir to, always to be understood that the case is not so far advanced as to show a destruction of the vital tissue. From early morn until late at night, this instrument is employed, imparting health and vigor to all who are so fortunate as to obtain its services. We do not claim that the use of medicines may not be more advantageous in some cases, but, that in connection with machines, it will perform a cure much sooner than without, and also that diseases hitherto deemed incurable, can be cured by this system, but the Directors desire to take this opportunity to inform invalids that the Resident Physician is a regular graduate and has had large experience in the treatment of disease, both with and without the assistance of electricity; he has also discovered several "electric" Vegetable remedies that will cure almost any nameable disease, which he will send with full instruct ns for use, to any part of the Pacific coast upon a receipt of a complete description of the disease with which the applicant may be afflicted, and will warrant a complete and perfect cure in all cases where the medicines are used according to directions and more especially in all cases of female troubles, where great care and caution are necessary to a favorable result. Disease (which by the old system) took months, and even years to cure, are now cured in a few days or weeks. The cost, too, is not so great as by the old system, besides the saving of time. Connected with this system are the renowned than which there is no more powerful auxiliary in the world for the radical cure of disease. There is no institute in the State where the electropathic system is practiced, except at the

Electro-Magnetic Baths,

Electropathic Institute,

645 Washington street.

This Institute was established to, if possible prevent the unwary from falling into those dens of robbery (yclept quack doctors' traps,) and hereafter the scientific originators of this Institute will not be to blame if the afflicted are robbed of their money, and injured in constitution. There is another view of the affair. The rising generation should be reared with strong constitutions, and the Directors wish to arouse their guardians to a proper sense of their duties in the premises, if possible to prevent them from stuffing their young charges with deleterious drugs, with a chance of entailing upon the tender constitution just forming, a complication of evils, a thousand times worse than death.

It would be consuming space, to no purpose, to enumerate the diseases to which this system is applicable, suffice it to say, that there is no disease, within the catalogue of human ills but what can be cured at the Electropathic Institute. We have instructed the Resident Physician to warrant a perfect and permanent cure, or ask no pay for services, when in his judgement it is within the bounds of cure.

CAUTION.

Persons seeking the Electropathic Institute, should be careful to remember the name and number.

CONSTABLE'S SALE.

BY Virtue of an execution to me delivered and directed on the 11th day of February A. D. 1866, issued out of the court of E. Aubury, a Justice of the Peace in and for Township No. 4, County of Placer and State of California, on a judgement rendered in said court on the 11th day of February, A. D. 1866, in favor of Charles Weeks, and against B. H. Bartlett, P. B. Holmes, and W. H. Hillhouse, for the sum of thirty-eight 50-100 dollars, and for costs of suit taxed at six 75-100 dollars, I have this day levied upon and will expose to public sale, to the highest bidder for cash in front of the Justice's office, in Dutch Flat at the hour of two o'clock, P. M., all the right, title, interest and claim which the said B. H. Bartlett, P. B. Holmes, W. H. Hillhouse, W. G. Brown et al, had on the 11th day of February, A. D. 1866, in and to the following described property, to wit: One mining claim situated lying and being on Canyon Creek, in Township No. 4, Placer county State of California, said claim commencing at a tunnel about 200 yards below the old saw mill on said Creek, and running nearly south from said tunnel 2,600 feet and running north from said tunnel 2,400 feet. Together with said tunnel, and all tools belonging to said claim. Said claim known as the Squires' quartz mining claim. All of which named and described property I shall sell as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the above judgement together with the costs due and to become due thereon.

On Monday, March 20th, 1866,

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

QUICK CURES AND MODERATE CHARGES.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

Private Medical and Surgical Institute,

Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and Scientific Medical Aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all Sexual Diseases.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness, and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal emissions, Sexual Disability, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public prtronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates from two of his patients, who, having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a Notary Public.

The welfare of society imperiously demand their publicity, and they are given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praise of a Physician, of whom hundreds of like cases can be cited during a practice of more than fifteen years.

DR. DOHERTY—Dear Sir: I feel my health so fully restor ed, that in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some some written acknowledgement for your valuable services—particularly as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. Being a stranger in this city, and believing those Doctors who gave such positive assurances of success were necessarily the best, (some of whom have a large number of titles,) I placed myself in their charge and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money.

I wish to say now that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed, and the only one that has ever done me any service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the Stricture is all removed, and my general health is beter than it has been for years.

In conclusion, I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you may employ, ask Dr. Doherty for my address and call and see me. (I keep store in this city.) My experience may save you many dollars.

I would also add that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorrhœa, Gleet, etc., but never derived any benefit from them.

I am, Doctor, very truly yours, L— H—.

Seminal Weakness—A Sworn-to Certificate of a most Remarkable Cure of Spermatorrhœa.

A desire to benefit humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to Dr. W. K. Doherty, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I have been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal Weakness, the result of self-abuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience. In that year however, I had Seminal Weakness to an alarming extent, which was soon followed by the most alarming symptons as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind, too, was afflicted to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory; my ideas were confused and spirits depressed. I was averse to society, had evil forebodings and self-distrust, and was entirely unfitted for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the summer of 1863, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars, but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief. I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but seeing Dr. Doherty's advertisement, I thought I would call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with Dr. Doherty at his office, in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable I determind to try him, though I did not expect much benefeit from his treatment. On the 5th of December last I placed myself under his care; in one week I found myself very much improved, and, now, after five weeks' treatment, I feel myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles and in the enjoyment of the best health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself

JAMES JOHNSTON.

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, they should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about their troubles and diseases. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communication will be superseded, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case (including the remedies), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE

Established by

DR. J. C. YOUNG, IN 1850.

FOR THE CURE OF ALL PRIVATE DISEASES AND ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,

540 WASHINGTON STREET.

SAN FRANCISCO, : : : : : : : : : : CALIFORNIA

NO CURE, NO PAY.

Consultation by letter, or otherwise, FREE. For direction of letters, see below.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALE and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiot, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poisons. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hover over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the almost fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be Satisfied with Partial Cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhea and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostrate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, (either sex) are always warranted, NO PAY REQUIRED, at the

Private Medical Institute,

No. 540 Washington street, San Francisco, Cal.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORRHŒA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, trouble and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness, gradually sweeping away his powers, destroying his hope of blessed manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharges of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for much of her happiness, is a victim to his evil, and the innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no consequence, in proper and skilful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician who by long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with palefaces and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, with out a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address, as below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and who is responsible enough in society recommend him to the confidence of a community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice, both in hospitals and private families—can make, to relieve them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Those females in trouble can rely upon him as upon a father. All affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire medical advice on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such in preference to holding a personal interview, are assured that their communications will be held most sacred.
